The DC Preservation League (DCPL), founded in 1971 as "Don't Tear It Down," is a nonprofit membership-supported organization dedicated to preserving and enhancing Washington's historic buildings and open spaces for future generations. As Washington's citywide preservation advocacy organization, DCPL identifies significant buildings and neighborhoods throughout the District, monitors threats to them, and increases public awareness of historic resources.

BUILDING BETTER COMMUNITIES

Giving back — it's a core value and an integral part of how we do business. Being a responsible corporate citizen is not just a good thing to do ... it's the right thing to do. Through both dollar and deed, we aim to make lasting improvements that will benefit the Washington, D.C. metropolitan community for years to come.

May is Preservation Month! Celebrate with #ThisPlaceMatters

This Place Matters is a national campaign that encourages people to celebrate the places that are meaningful to them and to their communities, and Preservation Month is the perfect time to share it with the world. As you spread the word about Preservation Month, make sure to use the #ThisPlaceMatters hashtag. Also check out the National Trust on Facebook for more cool tools to help you show your love.
